

Bring the Classics to Life
The Count of Monte Cristo

LEVEL 5

Series Designer
Philip J. Solimene

Editor
Laura M. Solimene

Cover Art
Matthew Archambault

Black & White Illustrations
Ken Landgraf

EDCON PUBLISHING

Long Island, New York

Story Adaptor
Rob C. Richards

Author
Alexandre Dumas

About the Author

Alexandre Dumas, a French novelist and playwright, was born in the year 1802. He was the son of the Revolutionary General, Alexandre Davy-Dumas. His mother was a black woman from Santo Domingo. He began his working career as a clerical worker, then, inspired by the works of Shakespeare, he turned to writing. Two of his most famous works are The Three Musketeers and The Count of Monte Cristo. Alexandre Dumas died on December 5, 1870.

Copyright © 2005
A/V Concepts Corp.

All rights reserved. No part of this book may be reproduced in any form or by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopying, recording, or by any information storage and retrieval system without permission of the publisher, with the following exception.

Student activity pages are intended for reproduction. EDCON Publishing grants to individual purchasers of this book the right to make sufficient copies of reproducible pages for use by all students of a single teacher. This permission is limited to an individual teacher, and does not apply to entire school systems.

info@edconpublishing.com
1-888-553-3266 Fax 1-888-518-1564
30 Montauk Blvd. Oakdale NY 11769
www.edconpublishing.com

CONTENTS

Words Used4,5

NO.	TITLE	SYNOPSIS	PAGE
81	Back to Marseilles	Young Edmond Dantes becomes the new captain of the Pharaon.	6
82	Surrounded by Enemies	Danglars, full of envy for Dantes' new position, and Fernand, jealous of Dantes, who had found favor with Mercedes, plan a way to get rid of Dantes.	12
83	The Chateau d'If	Young Edmond Dantes is taken to prison.	18
84	The Escape!	After spending twelve years in prison, Dantes, along with another prisoner, plan their escape.	24
85	Freedom at Last	After escaping, Edmond makes his way to the Isle of Monte Cristo, where he finds the treasure his friend had told him about. Then he heads back home to France.	30
86	Edmond Works His Plan	Edmond makes plans to get back at those who had put him in prison.	36
87	Edmond in Paris	In Paris, Albert takes the Count to meet his mother, Mercedes. She recognizes Edmond right away!	42
88	Mysterious Events	Murders take place at Villefort's house.	48
89	Sweet Revenge	Caderousse is dead. Fernand takes his own life, and Danglars' life is falling apart. Now all Edmond wants is to finish off Villefort.	54
90	Finished Business	Edmond gets his revenge against Villefort, but shows mercy to Danglars.	60
		Comprehension Check Answer Key67
		Vocabulary Check Answer Key69

WORDS USED

Story 81

Story 82

Story 83

Story 84

Story 85

KEY WORDS

comrade emperor envy fever sly traitor bride crime discuss innocent plead witness cell evidence justice release situation society education passage peculiar scrape sickness wealth bandit disguise suspicious tremendous valuable victim

NECESSARY WORDS

banished demoted fiancée isle monsieur treason engagement tavern affairs dungeon plaster revenge barren priest

WORDS USED

Story 86

Story 87

Story 87

Story 87

Story 90

KEY WORDS

festival generous humble loyal ransom repay appreciate invitation liquid loan poisonous reputation benefit gain member outfit recently task account challenged evil frantic mercy thrust captive funeral miserable pill sorrow trial

NECESSARY WORDS

kidnapped mask inherit title duel murder murderer betray guilty attend casket location

Back to Marseilles

PREPARATION

Key Words

comrade	(kom´ rad)	a close friend or companion The soldier spoke with his comrade during lunch. emperor	(em´ pər ər)	the male ruler of an empire (a group of countries or states under one ruler) The emperor was well loved by the people. envy	(en´ vē)	a feeling of ill will at another's good fortune because one wishes it had been his Max was full of envy when his neighbor bought a new boat. fever	(fē´ vər)	a rise of body temperature above the normal Joey's fever kept him in bed all week-end.
sly	(slī)	skillful at clever tricks; tricky The bank robbers were so sly, they never got caught.
traitor	(trā´ tər)	a person who betrays (goes against) his country, ruler, or friend The man was sent to prison for being a traitor to his country.

Back to Marseilles

Necessary Words

banished	(ban´ isht)	forced to leave a country He can't return to his country because the king had banished him. demoted	(di mōt´ ðd)	put back to a lower grade; reduced in rank The sergeant was demoted to private. fiancée	(fē´ än sā´)	a woman who is promised to be married William is so in love with his fiancée. isle	(īl)	a small island The sailor waited on the isle for his ship to return. monsieur	(me syé´)	the French word for "Mr." Monsieur Claude Monet was a great landscape painter. treason	(trē´ zn)	betrayal of one's country or ruler When it was learned that Peter sold secrets to the enemy, he was arrested for treason.

People

Danglars	is a sly sailor who disliked Edmond Dantes
King Louis XVIII	is the current king and ruler of France as this story opens
Monsieur Noirtier	is an old friend of Napoleon from the war

Places

Atlantic Ocean	a body of water separating North America and South America from Europe and Asia
Elba	is a small island in the Mediterranean Sea between France and Italy
France	is a country on the western coast of Europe
Italy	is a boot-shaped country on the southern tip of Europe
Marseilles	is a city on the southern coast of France

Back to Marseilles

Napoleon asked Edmond if he would deliver a letter for him.

Preview:

1. Read the name of the story.
2. Look at the picture.
3. Read the sentence under the picture.
4. Read the first five paragraphs of the story.
5. Then answer the following question.

You learned from your preview that Napoleon

- a. was captain of the Pharaon.
- b. was a traitor to his country.
- c. had been driven from power.
- d. had brain fever.

Turn to the Comprehension Check on page 10 for the right answer.

Now read the story.

Read to find out why Danglars did not like Edmond Dantes.

Back to Marseilles

In the winter of 1815, a ship named the Pharaon was returning from a journey to Italy. The Pharaon had a small crew. Among the men were Captain LeClere, Monsieur Danglars, and young Edmond Dantes.

Dantes was the First Mate of the ship. He was only nineteen years of age. He was a very kind and honest man. Danglars, on the other hand, was a man thirty-five years of age. He was very sly and full of envy.

Before returning home, the Pharaon made an important stop at the Isle of Elba. This was the island on which France had banished Napoleon Bonaparte. Napoleon was once the emperor of France. He had fought and won many battles for his country. But then he had been driven from power. The banished Napoleon was planning on returning to France one day. He would take back his command from King Louis XVIII.

The Pharaon's crew had stopped at the Isle of Elba to get help for their ill captain. Captain LeClere had gotten brain fever during the trip. Edmond Dantes took control of things when the Captain became ill. He truly cared for the Captain and wanted to help him.

On the Island, Napoleon pulled Edmond aside to talk with him privately. "Would you deliver a letter to an old comrade of mine in Marseilles?" asked Napoleon. Edmond felt uneasy about his question. Doing anything for Napoleon would be a form of treason. This would make Edmond a traitor to his country. "It's just a harmless letter to an old comrade from long ago," said Napoleon.

Edmond was unsure about taking the letter from the old emperor. After some thought, he agreed to deliver it. Edmond was no traitor, but he was very young. He was not aware of the problems he could face if the letter fell into the wrong hands. He could be charged with treason.

"Take this letter to Monsieur Noirtier," said Napoleon. "He will find you in Marseilles."

Within hours, Captain LeClere had died from his brain fever. The crew covered the body. They loaded it back onto the Pharaon. Then they sailed back out into the Atlantic Ocean. The crew buried Captain LeClere at sea.

The next day, the Pharaon sailed into the French harbor town of Marseilles. This was where Edmond Dantes lived. Edmond was very excited about his return. He was very anxious to see his father and his fiancée, Mercedes.

After docking the ship, Monsieur Morrel, the ship's owner, approached Dantes and Danglars. "What happened on your journey?" he asked.

Edmond explained. "Captain LeClere died of brain fever."

Danglars had a sly scowl on his face as he listened to Edmond tell Morrel about the trip. He felt such envy! He didn't like how well Dantes got along with Morrel. "Dantes did not obey my orders when he went to the Isle of Elba," interrupted Danglars rudely. He continued, "Our lives could have been lost sailing to that Island. I was trying to protect the well-being of the Pharaon."

Now Monsieur Morrel scowled. "You were trying to protect yourself," exclaimed Morrel. "Edmond did the right thing by seeking help for the ill Captain. This is the choice that you should have made, Danglars."

Danglars glared at Edmond with envy and dislike.

"Both of you come with me," commanded Morrel. The men followed Morrel inside the shipping company where they would learn who would become the next captain of the Pharaon. The two men sat down in front of Morrel's desk. Morrel paused for a few seconds. He looked at both men sitting in front of him. Finally, he began to fill out a piece of paper. "Edmond Dantes, you are a man of courage," Morrel began. "Because of your concern for your captain, I now make you the new captain of the Pharaon."

With great excitement, Edmond jumped up and shook Morrel's hand. "Thank you so much, sir. You have given me my dream. I will not let you down," he said smiling.

"Don't you have a pretty, young lady waiting to hear this good news?" asked Morrel.

Edmond smiled. He asked, "May I have two weeks leave so I may marry Mercedes?"

Morrel answered, "That is fine. But, the crew will need you in a month or so to set sail on the next journey. Now, go. Get to your fiancée and family to share the good news."

As Danglars listened to the exchange between the two men, he became angry. He felt more envy than ever before. He asked Morrel, "Have you demoted me?"

"No, I have not demoted you," answered Morrel. "You will be the Pharaon's First Mate. If this makes you unhappy, you may seek work somewhere else."

Danglars glared at Morrel. Then he left the office without saying a word. It appeared that Danglars was finished with his job at the shipping company.

Back to Marseilles

COMPREHENSION CHECK

Choose the best answer.

1. The Pharaon and its crew stopped at the Isle of Elba to
 - a. find Napoleon Bonaparte.
 - b. get help for King Louis XVIII.
 - c. get help for their captain.
 - d. take pictures.
2. Captain LeClere became sick with
 - a. the flu.
 - b. a stomach ache.
 - c. yellow fever.
 - d. brain fever.
3. _____ took control of the Pharaon when the Captain became ill.
 - a. Edmond Dantes
 - b. Monsieur Danglars
 - c. Monsieur Noirtier
 - d. Monsieur Morrel
4. When Napoleon was driven from power, who took his place as emperor?
 - a. King Henry VIII
 - b. King Louis XVIII
 - c. King Louis XVI
 - d. Prince Charles
5. Edmond
 - a. trusted Napoleon.
 - b. was a traitor to France.
 - c. didn't think there was any harm in delivering a letter.
 - d. was tired of sailing.

Preview Answer:

- c. had been driven from power.

6. Morrel and Dantes
 - a. were in love with the same woman.
 - b. thought highly of Danglars.
 - c. had it in for Danglars.
 - d. got along well with each other.
7. First, the Pharaon sailed into the town of Marseilles. Then, Morrel approached Dantes and Danglars. Next,
 - a. Dantes was made the new captain of the Pharaon.
 - b. Dantes married Mercedes.
 - c. Danglars quit his job.
 - d. Captain LeClere died of brain fever.
8. Danglars
 - a. and Edmond had a great friendship.
 - b. was jealous of Edmond.
 - c. felt threatened by Edmond's success.
 - d. was thrilled that Edmond was made captain.
9. Another name for this story could be
 - a. "Good News for Edmond."
 - b. "Buried at Sea."
 - c. "An Act of Treason."
 - d. "Off to Italy."
10. This story is mainly about
 - a. what life was like back in the 1800's.
 - b. why Danglars quit his job.
 - c. how King Louis XVIII came into power.
 - d. how a young boy came to be captain of a ship.

Check your answers with the Key on page 67.

Back to Marseilles

VOCABULARY CHECK

comrade	emperor	envy	fever	sly	traitor
---------	---------	------	-------	-----	---------

I. Sentences to Finish

Fill in the blank in each sentence with the correct key word from the box above.

- The _____ dog stole tonight's meal when Mother's back was turned.
- Some people _____ those who are rich.
- Keith and his _____ George went fishing together every Saturday.
- The _____ ordered the thief to be put to death.
- Joanne's high _____ kept her home from work for three days.
- Nancy called Helen a _____ for telling everyone her secret!

II. Making Sense of Sentences

Are the following statements true or false? Place an X next to the correct answer.

- A comrade is someone you have never met before. ___ TRUE ___ FALSE
- A traitor is someone who buys and sells goods. ___ TRUE ___ FALSE
- If you have a fever, you must get plenty of rest. ___ TRUE ___ FALSE
- If someone has envy, he wants what someone else has. ___ TRUE ___ FALSE
- A sly person can never be loved. ___ TRUE ___ FALSE
- An emperor is one rank below the captain of a ship. ___ TRUE ___ FALSE

Check your answers with the Key on page 69.